

READ a humorous text (short stories available)	MAKE metacognitive marks on a published, humorous short story.	IDENTIFY & ANALYZE 6 comedic elements in the text.	OPTION #1
WRITE a humorous anecdote about your family.	TYPE using MLA formatting	IDENTIFY & ANALYZE 6 comedic elements in the text.	OPTION #2
WRITE a parody of a poem (15 lines minimum)	PRINT or TYPE in a creative way	IDENTIFY & ANALYZE 6 comedic elements in the text.	OPTION #3

OPTION #3

- 1) CREATE a Google Doc.
- 2) SET UP MLA formatting.
- 3) TITLE it: LastName.2ndSem.FinalExam
- 4) WRITE a PARODY of one of the available poems. IMITATE the famous poem while creating your OWN version of that poem.
- 5) Include a clever, catchy title.
- 6) CHOOSE 6 comedy elements from our Vocabulary List to use WITHIN your poetry parody.

Juxtaposition	dialect	derision
caricature	persona	satire
verbal irony	situational irony	dramatic irony
hyperbole	pun	slapstick

7) INCLUDE an example for EACH OF THE 6 ELEMENTS YOU CHOSE.

8) LABEL each of those items using the Google Comment bar in the Document.

9) SUBMIT to the Google Classroom.

	EXEMPLARY	PROFICIENT	EMERGING
Parody of a poem (15 points)	Creates a parody of a famous poem. Types poem in Google Doc. Imitates the poem in a new and entertaining way.	A parody of a famous poem is attempted. Some imitation is apparent. Some of the lines are exactly the same. Some humor is used.	An attempt is made to write a parody of a famous poem. Poem is not finished. Too many lines are exactly the same.
6 comedy elements (60)	6 different elements are clearly identified in Google Comments. Thorough explanation is included for EACH of the 6 elements. Actual examples are highlighted within the Google Doc.	6 different elements are somewhat identified in Google Comments. Some explanation is given. Few examples are highlighted within the Google Doc.	Less than 6 elements included. Insufficient explanation are included within Google Comments.
MLA format (5)	MLA formatting followed perfectly in the document.	Some attempt at using MLA formatting.	Incorrect use of MLA formatting.